

This is a high-contrast, black and white botanical illustration of pomegranates. The image features several whole pomegranates, two of which are open, revealing the seeds inside. At the bottom, there is a branch with leaves and small pomegranates. In the top left corner, there are two rows of small, stylized symbols or characters.